BRANDMARK

The Logo

The Caprock logo is the most important visual asset and is critical to establishing connectivity throughout the entire guest journey.

Consistent use of the logo is essential to maintaining brand recognition and trust. It should never be altered, modified, or redrawn. Proper application helps ensure the identity remains strong, clear, and instantly recognizable across every touchpoint.

Exclusion Zone & Minimum Size

The exclusion zone ensures legibility and impact of the logo by isolating it from competing visual elements such as text and supporting graphics. This zone should be considered as the absolute minimum safe distance, ensuring the logo has plenty of room to breathe.

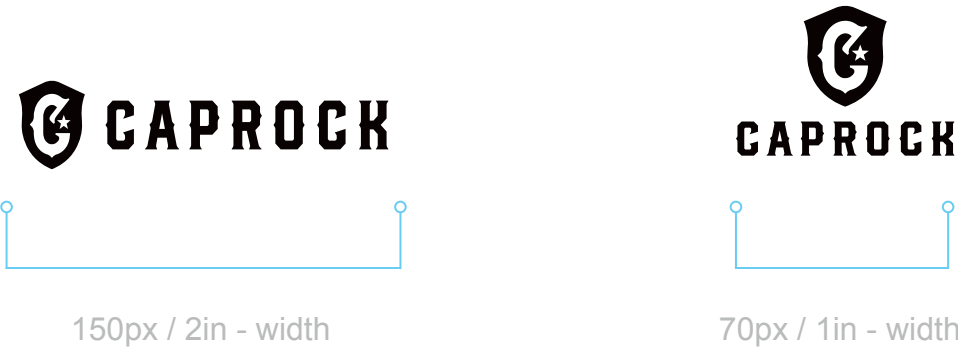

The exclusion zone is equal to half the height of the logo (marked as x in the diagram). If you are using the symbol instead of the logo, the same exclusion rules apply. The symbol’s exclusion zone is half the height of the crest.

Exclusion Zone

Height of crest can be used for spacing guide if needed.

Minimum Size

Logo Misuse

The appearance of the logo must remain consistent. The logo should not be misinterpreted, modified, or added to. No attempt should be made to alter the logo mark in any way.

Its orientation, color, and composition should remain as indicated in this document. To illustrate this point, some of the more likely mistakes are shown on this page for reference.

Do not add outlines/strokes to the logo.

Do not add gradient fill to the logo.

Color Usage Examples

These examples illustrate how the primary color palette can be effectively applied to maintain consistency of look and feel across larger brand moments and key collateral.

Ideally a combination of white type on black background with accents of gold will lead most communications.

Gold can be used on white, but we prefer to use black in most cases to optimize readability.

Black can be used on light gray but avoid using gold on gray.

Gold is a selective color choice, so we must use black type over it, never white.

Color Misuse for Wayfinding & MARCOM

This is a quick guide to ensure legibility. Even though some examples may seem obvious, it is important to maintain the minimalist approach as to not detract from brand and the community stories we are trying to highlight.

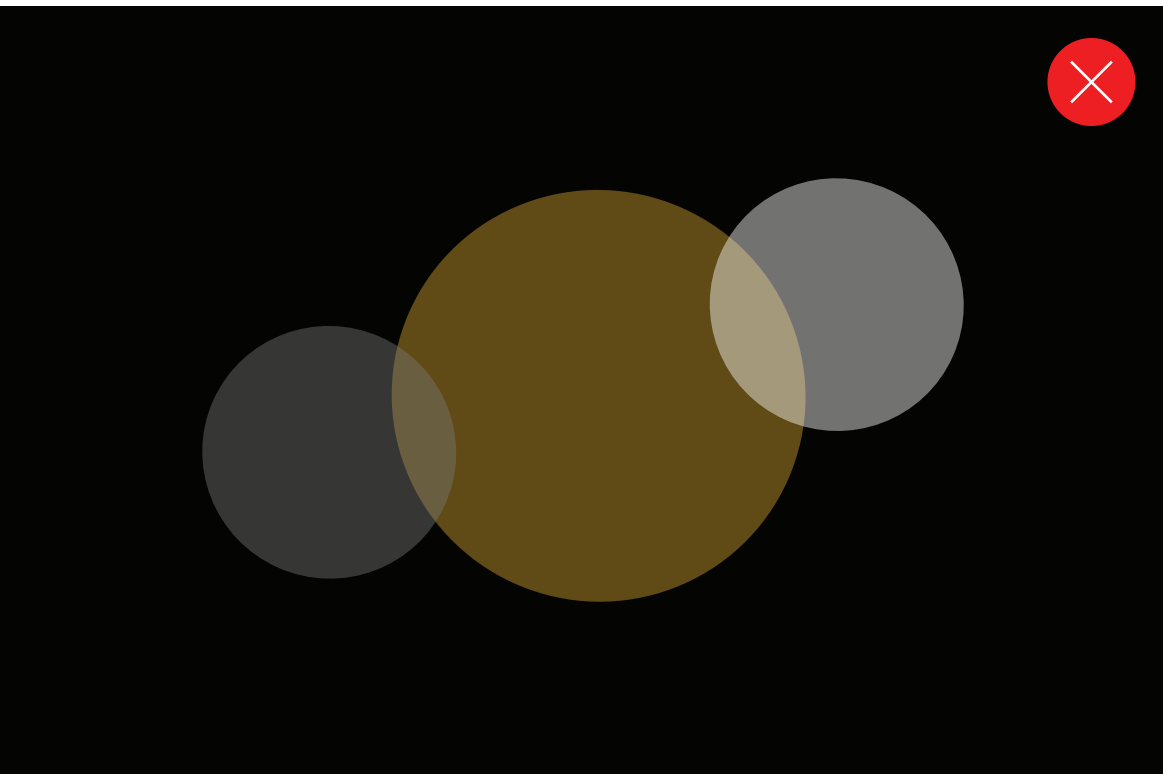

Do not use blends and gradients.

Do not use logo on colors outside of color palette.

Do not use shades of colors.

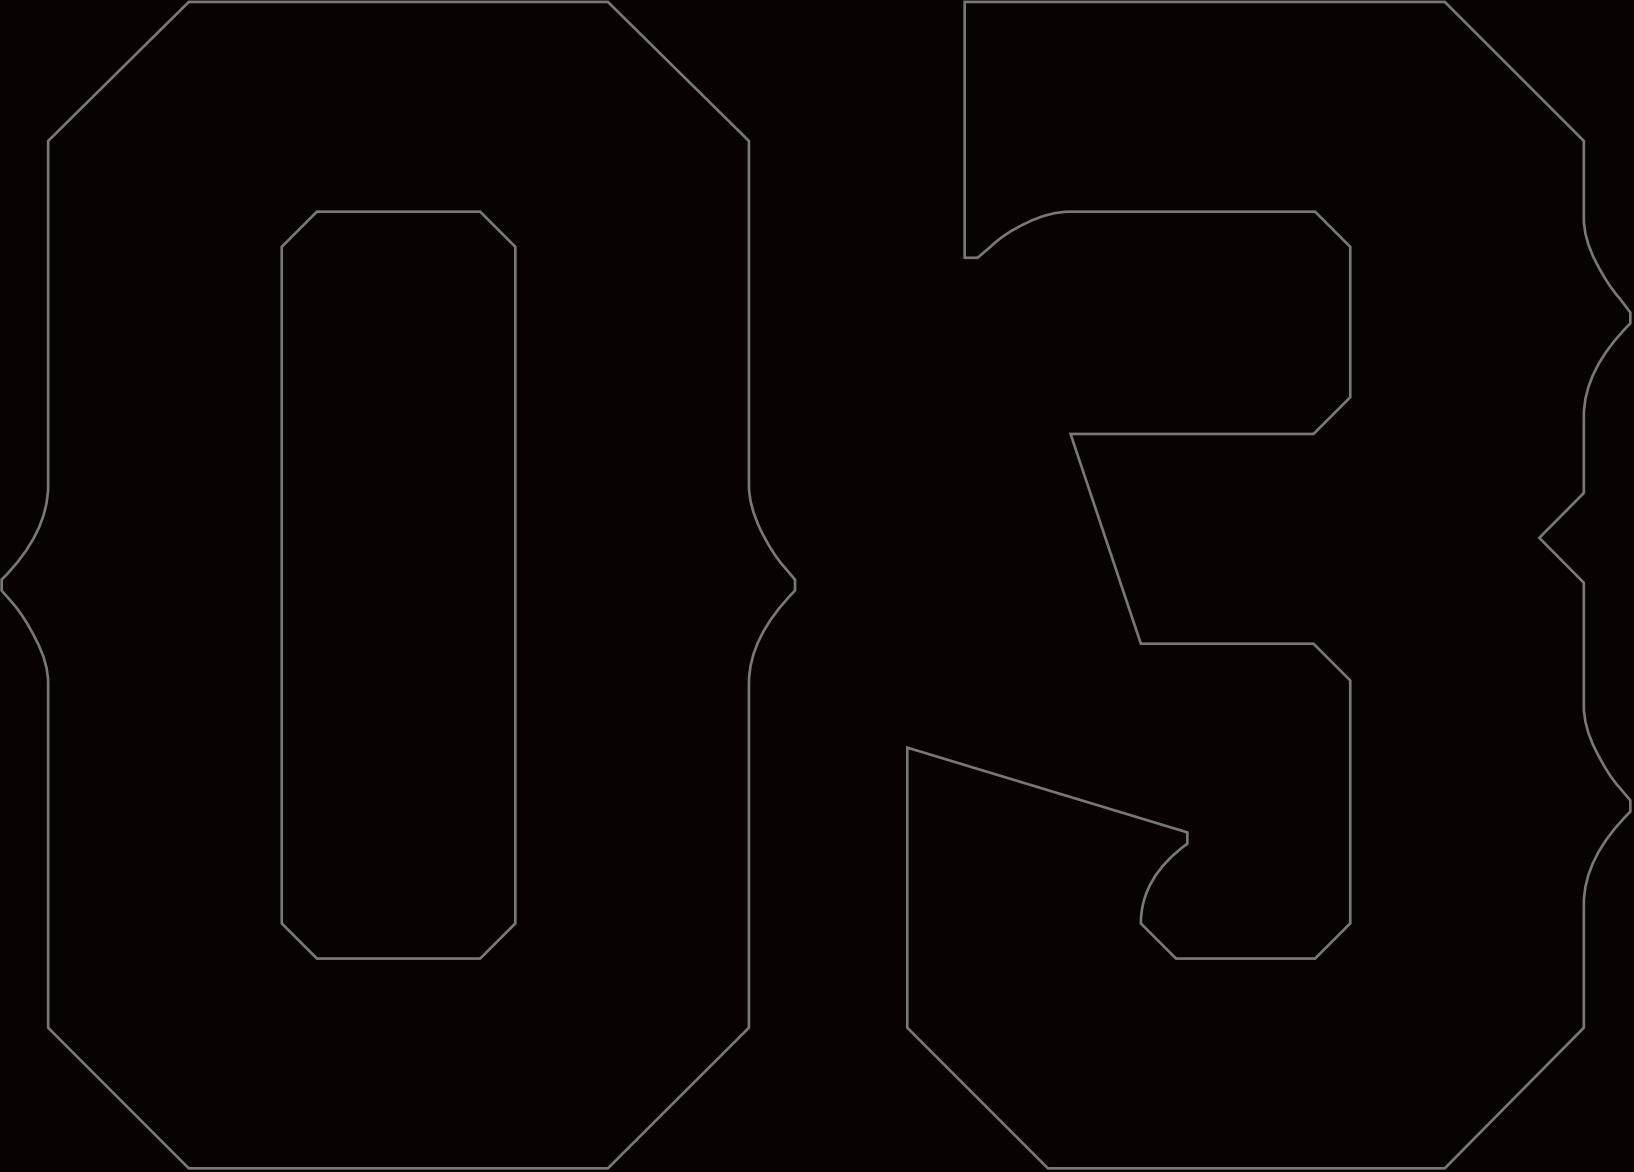

Do not adjust the transparency of color.

Do not use illegible color combinations/transparencies over imagery.

TYPOGRAPHY

Primary Typeface

Empera is the primary typeface used for large wayfinding, providing bold clarity reinforced with a touch of western flair throughout its characters.

Empera Regular

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ

Secondary Typeface

The Gelica typeset is used as a support font to use in combination with the primary typeface on elements such as banners, campus address numbers, et cetera, and can be used all caps or sentence case pending length of copy.

Type Hierarchy

Attention should be given to the written copy, ensuring both legibility and visual appeal. To create a clear hierarchy, ensure that size differences are maintained between different kinds of information. Using fewer sizes creates a more distinct impression.

LARGE WAYFINDING

SUBSET TYPE IS RESERVED FOR SUPPORT FOR HEADLINES.

Longer subheadlines and lower hierarchies will be used to support longer form information that still needs presence, but the length requires easy readability.

Body copy will continue to leverage “book” weight for fonts and should avoid “light” especially for smaller tabletop items and menu items/functional information.

CORE APPLICATION

Wayfinding Intent

The purpose of this page is to identify key wayfinding applications to influence key moments within the campus experience.

Core Building Branding

Paint on, vinyl wrap, or pinned lettering against raw material of the building is bold, minimalistic, and rooted in core brand colors.

Outdoor Directional Signage

Modern industrial elements inspired by I-beams blend with natural woods or a selective paint color that can clearly house information in an intentional package that focusses the communication efforts.

Wall/Hanging/Station IDs

A combination of layered, dimensional moments blended with key color foundations and vinyl/paint graphics add dimension and interest without losing harmony with the other campus wayfinding elements.

Application lockups can be found on this page. The intent is to use examples of key moments to define the hierarchy of the typographical elements and their intent within the guest journey.

Aramark Logo Integration

The inclusion of the Aramark logo should be incorporated throughout the site to acknowledge and identify the organization behind the hospitality experience. The Aramark enterprise logo must be used rather than any line of business-specific version.

Logo placement and sizing should remain secondary to the primary site identity and must not compete with, lock up with, or overshadow the master location branding (i.e., Caprock). It should also avoid interfering with food or location-specific concept branding.

Use of the red star is permitted; however, a white (knocked out) version of the logo is recommended when necessary to prevent visual conflict with surrounding branding or materials.
